

PROJECT RESULTS:

On February 27, 2026, the dissertation of Yerzhan Serikovich Syzdykbekov was successfully defended. He is a member of the research group implementing the project AP26103509 “Gender Aspects of External Migration and Adaptation of Migrants in Kazakhstan,” carried out within the framework of the grant funding competition of the Committee of Science of the Ministry of Science and Higher Education of the Republic of Kazakhstan for 2025–2027. He is also a Senior Lecturer at the Department of World Economy and International Relations and a PhD candidate in the specialty 6D051000 – State and Local Governance.

The title of the dissertation is: “Public Administration of External Labor Migration in the Republic of Kazakhstan.” The research is devoted to актуал issues of improving the system of public administration of external migration processes. The study provides practical recommendations aimed at increasing the effectiveness of migration policy.

The scientific results of the dissertation were developed taking into account international experience gained within the Erasmus+ Jean Monnet project “Migration Policy of the European Union” (101085024-EUMP-ERASMUS-JMO-2022-HEI-TCH-RSCH), in which the author served as the project coordinator.

The dissertation defense represents an important stage and an integral part of the implementation of research activities related to the applicant’s participation in the project “Gender Aspects of External Migration and Adaptation of Migrants in Kazakhstan.” The results obtained in the dissertation serve as a theoretical and methodological foundation for the further implementation of this project, particularly in the areas of migration process analysis, institutional governance mechanisms, and the social adaptation of labor migrants.
